Hebrews 10:20

A Call to Prayer

Since the beginning of the year, I have noticed numerous references for the need to pray. Our first group of the year has felt impressed to "come before His throne" and individual guests have expressed the same pressing need to spend time in His presence. As I read the weekly update from Focus on the Family for pastors, I was directed once again to the subject of prayer and ultimately the connection it has to spiritual awakening. These promptings of the Spirit coincide with the message depicted by the church pennant which now flies overhead here at Buffalo Ridge. "Flying the church pennant ...in its long history has been for the purpose of calling men to prayer often when they have been acutely aware of their finiteness and vulnerability in time of battle."¹

I don't believe many would argue that we are presently involved in battle although it is a battle of a spiritual nature also. Ephesians 6:10-18 An article² I read this past week reminds us that it was Paul's charge to Timothy to make sure that prayer remained a top priority in his life. 1 Timothy 2:1 The author also encouraged prayer for our leaders whether or not they profess to be Christians, laborers to work in His harvest and for the lost that they might be saved. For more practical applications you might want to read the article for yourself. If the Holy Spirit is prompting you to pray more and to pray more fervently, I hope you will answer the call and come before His throne. Hebrews 4:14-16

Our heartfelt thanks to all who have made Buffalo Ridge part of your life this past year. We are truly blessed by your presence, prayers and generous gifts.

We look forward to God using us again this year to strengthen others as they serve in their respective ministries. It gives us joy to know there are others who stand along side us in our endeavors.

God bless you.
